DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Swab et al. (US 6,929,365) in view of Jesiek (US 6,010,216) and Rydbeck (US 5,590,417).

Regarding claim 1, Swab et al. (figures 1, 2a, and 3) disclose a pair of eyeglasses, comprising a frame having a pair of arms and a pair of lense holders (figures 1 and 2a), one or both of the arms having an internal area; wireless communication circuitry (figure 3) provided within the internal area of one or both of the arms; at least one speaker (56) coupled to the wireless communication circuitry, the speaker provided within the internal area of at least one of the two arms; at least one microphone(54), wherein the at least one microphone being at least substantially embedded in the frame; at least one battery (52) for powering the wireless communication circuitry; wherein at least one of the arms is molded about at least some of the wireless communication circuitry, wherein the at least one battery is provided within the internal area of at least one of the arms, wherein the at least one battery is provided internal to a first of the arms (column 4, lines 5-18; column 4, line 66- column 5, line 43; and column 5, line 66 – column 6, line 16). Swab et al. do not specifically disclose the pair of eyeglasses comprising a balancing weight provided internal to the internal area of at least one of the arms, and wherein the balancing weight is provided internal to a second of the arms so that the two arms are of substantially the same weight, wherein the at least one battery is rechargeable, and wherein the at least one speaker is a piezoelectric speaker. However, Jesiek discloses a hands free two-way radio communications in the eyeglasses with rechargeable batteries and balancing weight for the eyeglasses frame (column 1, lines 46-61; and figures 1 and 2). Therefore, it would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to adapt the rechargeable batteries and balancing weight of Jesiek to the eyeglasses of Swab et al. in order to balance the weight of the eyeglasses to save cost and provide comfort to the user. The combination of Swab et al. and Jesiek fails to disclose wherein the at least one speaker is a piezoelectric speaker. However, Rydbeck disclose using a piezoelectric speaker in the headset (column 3, lines 40-64; and column 4, lines 60-65). Therefore, it would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to adapt the piezoelectric speaker of Rydbeck to the eyeglasses of Swab et al. and Jesiek for compact design as suggested by Rydbeck (column 4, lines 60-65).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Shannon (US 5,020,150) discloses combination radio and eyeglasses.

Wingate (US 5,988,812) discloses headphone eyeglasses.

Koike (US 6,243,578) discloses transmitting/receiving unit for use with a mobile communication device.

Haken (US 6,629,076) discloses method and device for aiding speech.

Miller et al. (US 6,729,726) disclose eyewear for hands-free communication.
